CAMPUS

A place designed for growth

NewDawn School is a private institution situated on a spacious campus just outside Bondo town. Its setting supports academic learning, recreation and enrichment, while welcoming learners from a culturally varied community.

"Do not do what others do better, do it differently."

STEVE JOBS

One school. Three pathways.

Age-appropriate environments support a confident progression from early learning through Junior School.

EARLY YEARS

Playgroup, Pre-primary 1 and Pre-primary 2

A welcoming foundation shaped around early development and readiness for primary learning.

PRIMARY

Grades 1-6

Competency-based learning supported by reading, language, music and communication activities.

JUNIOR SCHOOL

Introduced in 2025

A digitally equipped learning environment with smart boards in each classroom.

People who make learning possible

The school profile records 18 teachers and 10 non-teaching personnel supporting learners across the school.

Competency-based. Future-ready.

The academic programme follows Kenya's national Competency Based Curriculum (CBC). English is the language of instruction.

Learning with purpose

NewDawn's academic programme is based on the national CBC and the school profile states that the institution is fully registered with the Ministry of Education. The learning approach is complemented by opportunities that build communication, creativity, reading habits and practical confidence.

DIGITAL JUNIOR SCHOOL

Junior School classrooms are equipped with smart boards, extending teaching and presentation possibilities within the learning environment.

Curiosity has many voices.

Music, reading and language activities create more ways for learners to discover interests and express ideas.

MUSIC

Instruction includes drums, guitar, violins, violas, cello and digital keyboard.

READING

Weekly storybook sessions are designed to encourage reading beyond the classroom.

LANGUAGE

French is offered in Grades 4-6, alongside spelling bees and debates.

Future plans described in the source profile include expanding life-skills activities such as culinary arts.

Learning moves beyond four walls.

A varied extracurricular programme supports participation, teamwork, confidence and holistic development.

Room to participate

Learners take part in outdoor and indoor activities, music, storybook sessions, spelling bees and debates. Together, these experiences encourage public speaking, language development, collaboration and enjoyment of school life.

Space to learn. Space to belong.

Dedicated learning areas and a spacious setting support the school's academic, recreational and enrichment programme.

Designed around the learner

- Dedicated spaces for Early Childhood Development and Primary education.
- Specialised music areas with a range of instruments.
- Smart boards in Junior School classrooms.
- More than two acres for academic, recreational and extracurricular activity.
- A stated commitment to a safe and supportive environment for learners and staff.
